

Bringing Endourology into 2021

4 December 2020 • 14:00-16:00 GMT

In the 2020 finale of our borderless forum series, Dr. Ben Chew will moderate a panel of expert physicians from around the world and talk about the future of endourology, discussing changes in stone management procedures, the latest product innovations, patient care, and more.

Agenda

14:00-14:05	Finale introduction	Dr. Ben Chew
14:05-14:20	Should I use a ureteral access sheath? Optimizing ureteroscopy for 2021	Dr. Michael Wong
14:20-14:35	Laser pulse modulation and optimizing lasers for stones in 2021	Dr. Oriol Angerri
14:35-14:50	Rewriting the textbook in 2021: the new standard of care for managing kidney stones in pregnancy	Dr. Michelle Jo Semins
14:50-15:05	The path to ideal PCNL in 2021	Dr. Norberto Bernardo
15:05-15:20	Robotics in ureteroscopy and PCNL	Dr. Ben Chew
15:20-15:55	Case discussions Q & A	Faculty
15:55-16:00	Closing remarks	Dr. Ben Chew

Expert moderator

Dr. Ben Chew (Canada)

Director of Clinical Research, Stone Centre, Vancouver General Hospital, Associate Professor of Urology, University of British Columbia in Vancouver

Panelists

Dr. Michael Wong (Singapore)

Medical Director & Senior Consultant of Urology, Fertility and Gynaecology Center, Mount Elizabeth Hospital

Dr. Oriol Angerri (Spain)

Head of the Lithiasis Unit, Department of Urology, Fundació Puigvert, Barcelona

Dr. Michelle Jo Semins (USA)

Assistant Professor, University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine, Director of the UPMC Kidney Stone Center

Dr. Norberto Bernardo (Argentina)

Head of Urology, Urología de la Clínica San Camilo

vista.cookmedical.com